This document relates to:

Federal Insurance Co. v. al Qaida
03 CV 06978 (RCC)

RICO STATEMENT APPLICABLE TO MOHAMMAD ABDULLAH AL JOMAIH

Based on information currently available, and pursuant to the Case Management Order dated June 15, 2004, plaintiffs submit this RICO statement for defendant Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih, referred to as “al-Jomaith” in some court filings.

Given the vastly complicated nature of the conspiracy and other wrongdoing that led to the events of September 11, 2001, much information is presently unavailable to plaintiffs, absent discovery. Plaintiffs therefore reserve the right to amend this RICO statement as information is learned and verified and after discovery is obtained.

1. The unlawful conduct is in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1962(c) and/or (d).
2. The names of the defendant to whom this RICO statement pertains is Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih. The alleged misconduct and basis for liability is set forth in Exhibit “A”.
3. Not applicable. All known wrongdoers are named as defendants in this action. Given the vastly complicated nature of the conspiracy and other wrongdoing that led to the events of September 11, 2001, however, much information is unavailable to plaintiffs, and the identities of other wrongdoers may be revealed through discovery. Plaintiffs therefore reserve the right to amend this RICO statement as information is learned and verified and after discovery is obtained.

4. The name of each victim and the manner in which each was injured is indicated on the chart attached hereto as Exhibit "B".
5. (a) list of predicate acts and specific statutes violated:

conspiracy to commit murder	NY CLS Penal § 105.15; NY CLS Penal § 125.25(xi)
conspiracy to commit arson	NY CLS Penal § 105.15; NY CLS Penal § 150.15
Travel Act	18 U.S.C. § 1952
illegal transactions in monetary instruments	18 U.S.C. § 1956
money laundering	18 U.S.C. § 1957
mail fraud	18 U.S.C. § 1341
wire fraud	18 U.S.C. § 1343
defrauding the US Government	18 U.S.C. § 371
filing false or materially false tax returns	26 U.S.C. § 7206(1), (2)
engaging in a corrupt endeavor to impede and impair the due administration of the internal revenue laws	26 U.S.C. § 7212(a)

- (b) dates of, the participants in, and a description of the facts surrounding the predicate acts

DATES	PARTICIPANTS	FACTS
early 1990s to 9/11/2001	Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih ("Al Jomaih")	Al Jomaih conspired to support terrorism and to obfuscate the roles of the various participants and conspirators in the al Qaida Movement to perpetrate radical Muslim terrorism, which conspiracy culminated in the Attack.
early 1990s to 9/11/2001	Al Jomaih	Al Jomaih undertook the above-named actions as part of a conspiracy to commit murder and arson, in that it knew that the Enterprise in which it was participating, the al Qaida Movement to perpetrate radical Muslim terrorism, planned to and would commit an act of deadly aggression against the United States in the near future, using the resources and support it supplied.

early 1990s to 9/11/2001	Al Jomaih	Al Jomaih agreed to form and associate itself with the Enterprise and agreed to commit more than two predicate acts, i.e. , money laundering, mail and wire fraud, illegal transactions in monetary instruments, and multiple acts of murder and arson, and others, in furtherance of a pattern of racketeering activity in connection with the Enterprise.

(c) not applicable

(d) No.

(e) No.

(f) The predicate acts form a pattern of racketeering in that they are continuous, and are a part of the Enterprise's regular way of doing business. Other of the defendants consistently, evenly constantly, laundered money, filed false tax returns, and otherwise impeded and impaired the administration of the tax laws as part of their scheme to conduit money to terrorists, and yet obfuscate their support of the al Qaida Movement to perpetrate radical Muslim terrorism.

(g) The predicate acts relate to each other (horizontal relatedness) as part of a common plan because each act of money laundering and tax evasion allowed certain of the defendants to surreptitiously provide funds to terrorist organizations, including al Qaida itself, which conspiracy culminated in the Attack.

(a) The enterprise (the "Enterprise" or "the al Qaida Movement") is comprised of the defendants named in the First Amended Complaint, and is a collection of persons, organizations, businesses, and nations associated in fact.

(b) The Enterprise has its origins in the defeat of the Soviets in Afghanistan in the late 1980s, when Osama Bin Ladin ("Bin Ladin") formed an organization called "The Foundation" or "al Qaida." Al Qaida was intended to serve as a foundation upon which to build a global Islamic army. The structure of the Enterprise is an association in fact with common and complex goals that consist of far more than the mere desire to perpetrate the acts of racketeering outlined herein. Rather, the Enterprise utilizes acts of racketeering to further its overall common purposes of: (i) spreading a particularly virulent brand of radical, conservative Islam; (ii) eliminating Western influences in Islamic countries, including Western influences that are perceived to keep in power repressive Arab regimes that are not true to Islam; and (iii) punishing Israel, and the United States for its perceived support of Israel. The enterprise to engage in radical Muslim terrorism does not feature a centralized hierarchy, because the lack of a centralized hierarchy is essential to the Enterprise's clandestine nature and its success. Thus, although al Qaida had its own membership roster and a structure of "committees" to guide and oversee such functions as training terrorists, proposing targets, financing operations, and issuing edicts, the committees were not a hierarchical chain of command but were instead a means for coordinating functions and providing material support to operations. Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih fit neatly into this framework by providing funding to and otherwise providing material support for the members of the Enterprise who engaged in the Attack.

- (c) no.
 - (d) Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih is associated with the Enterprise.
 - (e) Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih is a member of the Enterprise, and is separate and distinct from the Enterprise.
 - (f) Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih intended to further the Attack and adopted the goal of furthering and/or facilitating that criminal endeavor, which criminal activity culminated in the Attack.
7. The pattern of racketeering activity conducted by Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih is separate from the existence of the al Qaida Movement to perpetrate radical Muslim terrorism, but was a necessary component to the Attack.
 8. The Enterprise conducts terrorism all over the world; the racketeering activity conducted by Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih furthers and facilitates that activity, which activity culminated in the Attack. The usual and daily activities of the Enterprise includes recruitment, indoctrination, and the provisioning and operation of training camps, all of which activities are furthered and facilitated by the racketeering activities described herein.
 9. The Enterprise benefits by spreading its ideology, by suppressing other forms of Islam, and through the gratification of destroying its perceived enemies.
 10. The Enterprise, and the racketeering activities conducted by Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih, relies heavily on the American interstate system of commerce for banking, supplies, communications, and virtually all its essential commercial functions, and in that manner affects interstate commerce. Additionally, the Attack itself affected commerce. See Rasul v. Bush, 124 S. Ct. 2686, No. 03-334, 2004 U.S. LEXIS 4760, * 8 (stating that the Attack "severely damaged the U.S. economy").
 11. Not applicable.

12. Not applicable.
13. The al Qaida Movement to perpetrate radical Muslim terrorism “employs” certain individuals, only a few of whose identities are known, including defendant Osama bin Ladin.
14. The history of the conspiracy behind the al Qaida Movement to perpetrate radical Muslim terrorism, and has, filled many books, but for purposes of the present RICO Statement, the following is offered. After being turned out of the Sudan in May 1996, al Qaida established itself in Afghanistan, and relied on well-placed financial facilitators, including Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih, who laundered funds from Islamic so-called charities and corporations and raised money from witting and unwitting donors. They also relied heavily on certain imams at mosques who were willing to divert the zakat, the mandatory charitable contributions required of all Muslims. Al Qaida also collected money from employees of corrupted charities.

The funds thus raised were used to, among other things, operate terrorist training camps in Afghanistan, where some recruits were trained in conventional warfare but where the best and most zealous recruits received terrorist training. The curriculum in the camps placed great emphasis on ideological and religious indoctrination. All trainees and other personnel were encouraged to think creatively about ways to commit mass murder.

The camps were able to operate only because of the worldwide network of recruiters, travel facilitators, and document forgers who vetted recruits and helped them get in and out of Afghanistan. From the ranks of these recruits the nineteen perpetrators of the Attack were selected. None of this would have been possible without the funds supplied by participants and conspirators like Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih. Indeed, the Enterprise would not have been successful without the enthusiastic participation of all of the conspirators, including Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih. In order to identify nineteen individuals willing, able and competent to carry out the Attack, al Qaida needed to select from a vast pool of recruits and trainees, which pool would not have been available to it without the assistance provided by Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih. Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih, with knowledge and intent, agreed to the overall objectives of the conspiracy, and agreed to commit at least two predicate acts and all agreed to participate in the conspiracy, either expressly or impliedly. Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih also, with knowledge and intent, agreed to and did aid and abet all of the above illegal activities, RICO predicate acts, and RICO violations.

15. As the subrogees of both individual and property claimants, plaintiffs have been harmed in their business and property through the claims that they have paid out or for which they have reserved.
16. Plaintiffs’ damages -- injuries, the loss of life and property damage that resulted from defendants’ actions -- are direct in that they are not derivative of damage to a third party. Rather the plaintiffs’ insureds’ assignees were the “reasonably foreseeable victims of a RICO violation” and the “intended victims of the racketeering enterprise,” i.e., terrorism, the culmination of which was the Attack.

17. Each defendant is jointly and severally liable for the damages suffered by each plaintiff, as set forth in Exhibit “B”.

EXHIBIT “A”RICO STATEMENT*QUESTION # 2

DEFENDANT	MISCONDUCT	BASIS OF LIABILITY
Mohammad Abdullah al Jomaih (“Al Jomaih”)	Al Jomaih was a wealthy Saudi national and one of al Qaida’s principal individual financiers, both in his individual capacity and in his capacity as owner of the Abdulaziz and Mohammed A. Al-Jomaih Company, located in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. Al Jomaih was specifically listed on a document called the “Golden Chain.” The “Golden Chain” document was discovered during a raid of the Bosnian offices of the Benevolence International Foundation, conducted jointly by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Bosnian Police. During the course of that raid, the authorities seized several computer hard drives, one of which included a file named “Tareekh Osama” (“Osama’s History”), containing scanned images of documents chronicling the formation of al Qaeda. The “Golden Chain” document was among several hundred documents contained in this computer file. Based on their analysis of all the documents within that file, and intelligence gathered from other sources during the war on terror, officials of the US government concluded that the document is “a list of people referred to within al Qaeda” as wealthy donors to the movement. See Government’s Evidentiary Proffer supporting the Admissibility of Co-Conspirator Statements, United States of America v. Enaam Arnaout, No. 02-CR-892 (N.D. Ill. filed Jan. 6, 2003). The National Commission On Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States embraced this interpretation of the document in its Final Report. See Final Report of the 9/11 Commission, Note 21 to Chapter 2. The Treasury Department has similarly concluded that the "Golden Chain" is an authentic list of al Qaida's principal individual financiers, and in fact used Adel Batterjee's inclusion in the document as a basis to for designating him as a terrorist sponsors under Executive Order 13224. See December 21, 2004 Treasury Department Press Release Regarding the Designation of Adel Batterjee, available at http://www.treas.gov/press/releases/js2164.htm The Abdulaziz and Mohammed A. al-Jomaih Company has been identified as a donor to another co-defendant, International Islamic Relief Organization (IIRO) in various governmental	1962(c) 1962(d)

Al Jomaih was materially involved in aiding and abetting or conspiring with other Defendants and al Qaeda in a manner intended to enable and proximately cause acts of violence targeted at the United States conspired to and did generate and surreptitiously transfer funds to terrorist organizations, including directly to al Qaida. As Al Jomaih knew, IIRO has long acted as fully integrated components of al Qaida's logistical and financial support infrastructure, and provided material support and resources to al Qaida and affiliated foreign terrorist organizations. In so doing, al Jomaih committed multiple acts of conspiracy to commit murder and arson, money laundering, tax fraud, Travel Act violations, filing a false tax return, and impeding and impairing the collecting of federal taxes, all in furtherance of the Enterprise's common goals and ultimate plan of launching an attack on America.
